

ABSTRACT

The present invention provides a method of packaging washbasin table assembly, in which the first step is to cut the stone plate into a size that the customers can lay over directly; the second step is to lay the wash table and the washbasin matching with the pre-
5 drilled hole and location holes on a crash pallet together; the third step is to wrap the wash table and washbasin on the crash pallet up so that the wash table and the washbasin are held in the crash pallet tightly without any loosening. Utilizing the method of the present invention not only avoid repeatedly package, and facilitate to sell, and to customers installing by themselves.